

Feedback guidance for student researchers

Using the feedback you have gathered throughout the year on the different raising aspirations activities compile a short presentation (10-15 minutes or 500 words) in whatever format you like (i.e. a blog, tweet, news report, PowerPoint etc) to answer the following questions:

1. How have the activities helped you and your fellow students:
 - a. To improve knowledge and awareness of the benefits of higher education and graduate employment?
 - b. To better understand the options available to after leaving school/college?
 - c. With the confidence to make decisions about the future?
 - d. To develop the skills (i.e. revisions and exam techniques, teamwork etc) needed to succeed in the future?
 - e. Better understand how subjects at school and college are linked to careers you/they may be interested in?
2. How could the activities be improved? What would make them more effective and memorable?
3. Overall, what difference have the activities made to you and your fellow students especially in terms of planning your future career paths?
4. How would you explain your role to other students?
5. How would you teach another student how to do this role?
